*When we truly know ourselves to be magnificent creatures with an infinite abundance of creativity, energy and foresight,
then we tend to behave in ways
that are bold, brave, confident,
and relentless in our commitment to manifest a radiant life of our dream.*

WEEK TWO

THE CREATOR: Creators use foresight to create a vision of possibilities into a stunning work of art.

At the soul of the creator archetype is a spirit of innovation. The Creator gets deep satisfaction from both the process and the outcome of creating something that did not previously exist. This archetype trusts in the creative process above all else and lives for authentic self-expression. The inventor, artist, writer, and entrepreneur are representative of the Creator archetype.

But, as with every Archetype, the Creator has a shadow side and is often likely to get stuck and bogged down in a cycle of perfectionism. And, when stuck in perfectionism we find ourselves unable to move above our 'story' and into a radiant new vision of our destiny.

When we think we're meant to be average or ordinary, our actions and our results will match that belief. Always.

All outer fortune begins with rescripting of our self-identity, maximizing our esteem and confidence. Then, optimizing our daily routines so we are empowered to consciously and consistently take forwarding action in support of the highest expression of our highest self.

Self-love and Self-respect = love and respect of our vision, love and respect of our craft.

It's from acting from this space that we are free to give ourselves wholeheartedly to the fullness of our destiny.

Self-love and Self-respect begins through cultivating, practicing, and sustaining elevated emotions like gratitude, appreciation, thankfulness, inspiration, freedom, kindness, care, compassion, love, and joy for living.

When we commit to learning about, understanding, and managing our CREATIVE STATES more efficiently and effectively, we can achieve healthier relationships, improved prosperity, and creative freedom. Then, instead of responses of stress — responses that drain us of our energy — we can replace them with emotions that give us energy — living in the CREATIVE STATES that fill our spirit, and activate feelings of wholeness, connection, and vibrant creativity.

Understanding the power of our CREATIVE STATES is one of the foundations of DESTINY writing — providing you with a practice where you can create a quiet moment, find stillness in your body and mind, and write. As you practice DESTINY writing, make a point to notice your breath. Each time you take a breath, slow it down, place your awareness where your heart is, then practice cultivating those heightened, elevated CREATIVE STATES. Overtime, as you practice elevated emotional states, you'll likely discover your heart is open, you become more intuitive, more patient, more connected, more present, more forgiving, and more knowing.

The image provided below is THE EMOTIONAL GUIDANCE SCALE as created by Abraham Hicks. It is provided here to support you in learning ways to better understand and work with the emotional quality – CREATIVE STATES – expressed through your writing.

Please Note: I do not believe one emotional state to be better than another. What I do believe is that the best way to immerse ourselves in the true power of our creative consciousness is to feel everything. It is the power of emotions – when explored and expressed – that can guide us to better understand and many times lift us by revealing the dormant feelings blocking the view of our highest destiny.

*You are what your deepest desire is.
As your desire is, so is your intention.
As your intention is, so is your will.
As your will is, so is your deed.
As your deed is, so is your destiny.”*
