ABOUT MARSH ENGLE

Marsh Engle is a pioneer and leading authority in the field of women's success bridging creativity, feminine-esteem and achievement. A multi-published author of the AMAZING WOMAN book series and award-winning entrepreneur, her work and multi-decade research promotes practices that lead women to succeed with influence and impact.

In 2016 Marsh served as an elected delegate to THE UNITED STATE OF WOMEN, an acclaimed leadership program led by First Lady Michelle Obama. Marsh has shared the stage with bestselling authors including don Miguel Ruiz and Marianne Williamson; International Fashion Designer, Michelle Bohbot; Acclaimed Journalists Maria Shriver and Rolonda Watts; and, stars from television and film.

"I believe in the creative power of women.

We have the unique ability to make the world a better place."

In 2011, just after 911, Marsh Engle was among the few writers who were trusted to enter the firehouses of New York City. Her role: interview and document the stories of the fewer than 25 women who serve among the FDNY. The women whose life stories she was entrusted to tell were the first women – 25 out of 12,000 firefighters – to serve in the 114-year history of firefighters in New York City.

"These women are true pioneering, trailblazers. They changed the history of firefighting in NYC. They opened the door to a new way of interpreting possibilities and potentials for themselves and for other women. And, in doing so they changed the destiny for women in firefighting and beyond."

Their stories are published in AMAZING WOMAN AMAZING FIREFIGHTER (2002).

Marsh Engle's most recent book, THE SACRED AGREEMENTS: Purpose. Passion. And, the Power to Lead (2017) is based her celebrated course moving thousands of women to liberate their innate power to create purpose-driven change in their lives. In this book, Marsh shares useful insights that have guided her 20+ years of coaching over 25,000 women and inspires readers to rise in higher creativity to achieve with influence and impact.

Releasing in Fall 2018 DEAR AMAZING DAUGHTER written by Marsh along with a collaborative team of women contributors, brings to light the power of purpose-driven conversation to create transformational shifts in their lives and in the lives of the future generation of amazing women.

Marsh is the founder of AMAZING WOMAN NATION, an organization powered by MARSH ENGLE MEDIA, a diversified, cross-platform media, publishing and merchandising company, Marsh is devoted to enhancing the lives of women by designing lifestyle content, training programs and products positioned to impact millions.

EXTENDED BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Though best known as a highly inspired motivational speaker and mentor to women worldwide, Marsh Engle is also a respected marketing advisor to small business leaders and start-ups. She consults with major corporations and media studios on women's brand initiatives.

She's a multi-published author and creates meaningful campaigns generating worldwide impact. The award-winning AMAZING WOMAN'S DAY global movement inspired millions to achieve with influence and impact. Now, with the launch of AMAZING WOMAN NATION Marsh celebrates every woman's creative passions and purpose by curating a collection of leadership labs + creative lifestyle experiences, engaging broadcasts, published products and meaningful campaigns positioned to move, motivate and inspire millions.

Marsh started her entrepreneurial career, including three successful start-ups, as a single mom of two sons.

In June 2016 she served as an elected delegate at the UNITED STATE OF WOMEN, a groundbreaking program sanctioned by THE WHITE HOUSE and led by First Lady of the United States, Michelle Obama bringing together women advocates, and business leaders dedicated to impacting the futures of women and girls.

Early Beginnings:

As a single mother, Marsh launched her own marketing agency, an entrepreneurial venture that grew into a multi-million-dollar, award winning creative development firm in less than 2-years. In 1999, after the death of her mother, a diagnosis of cancer, and the passing of her father ~ all within 18 months ~ Marsh set out on a multi-year study of the transformational powers of the human spirit. With the will to defeat the diagnosis of cancer, Marsh lifted herself up to become the founder of the Amazing Woman's Day, a global movement that has inspired the creativity and success of over 100,000 women living in 3 countries and over 200 cities.

Background on Marsh's work ...

"It was January 1999 when I first began to initiate a long overdue conversation about self-worth, success and the undervalued creativity of women. The fact is I longed for this conversation. The undercurrent of change in my life was potent. When my mother suddenly died, it was the beginning of a pivotal turning point. Then, my health began to fail. And, a few short months later my father died. It felt as though lightning had struck my life. But I also knew that I was being moved to look to a new direction – the change I was asked to create wouldn't come from thinking more rigorously, striving longer and harder or going it alone. The fact is I was starving for a new way of creating and living ...

I began my journey by listening to what women had to say.

*The calling to create a new conversation became the Amazing Woman's Day, a consortium of live gatherings and events traveling to multiple countries, across the United States, moving thousands to create, igniting a shift in the culture of our success.*

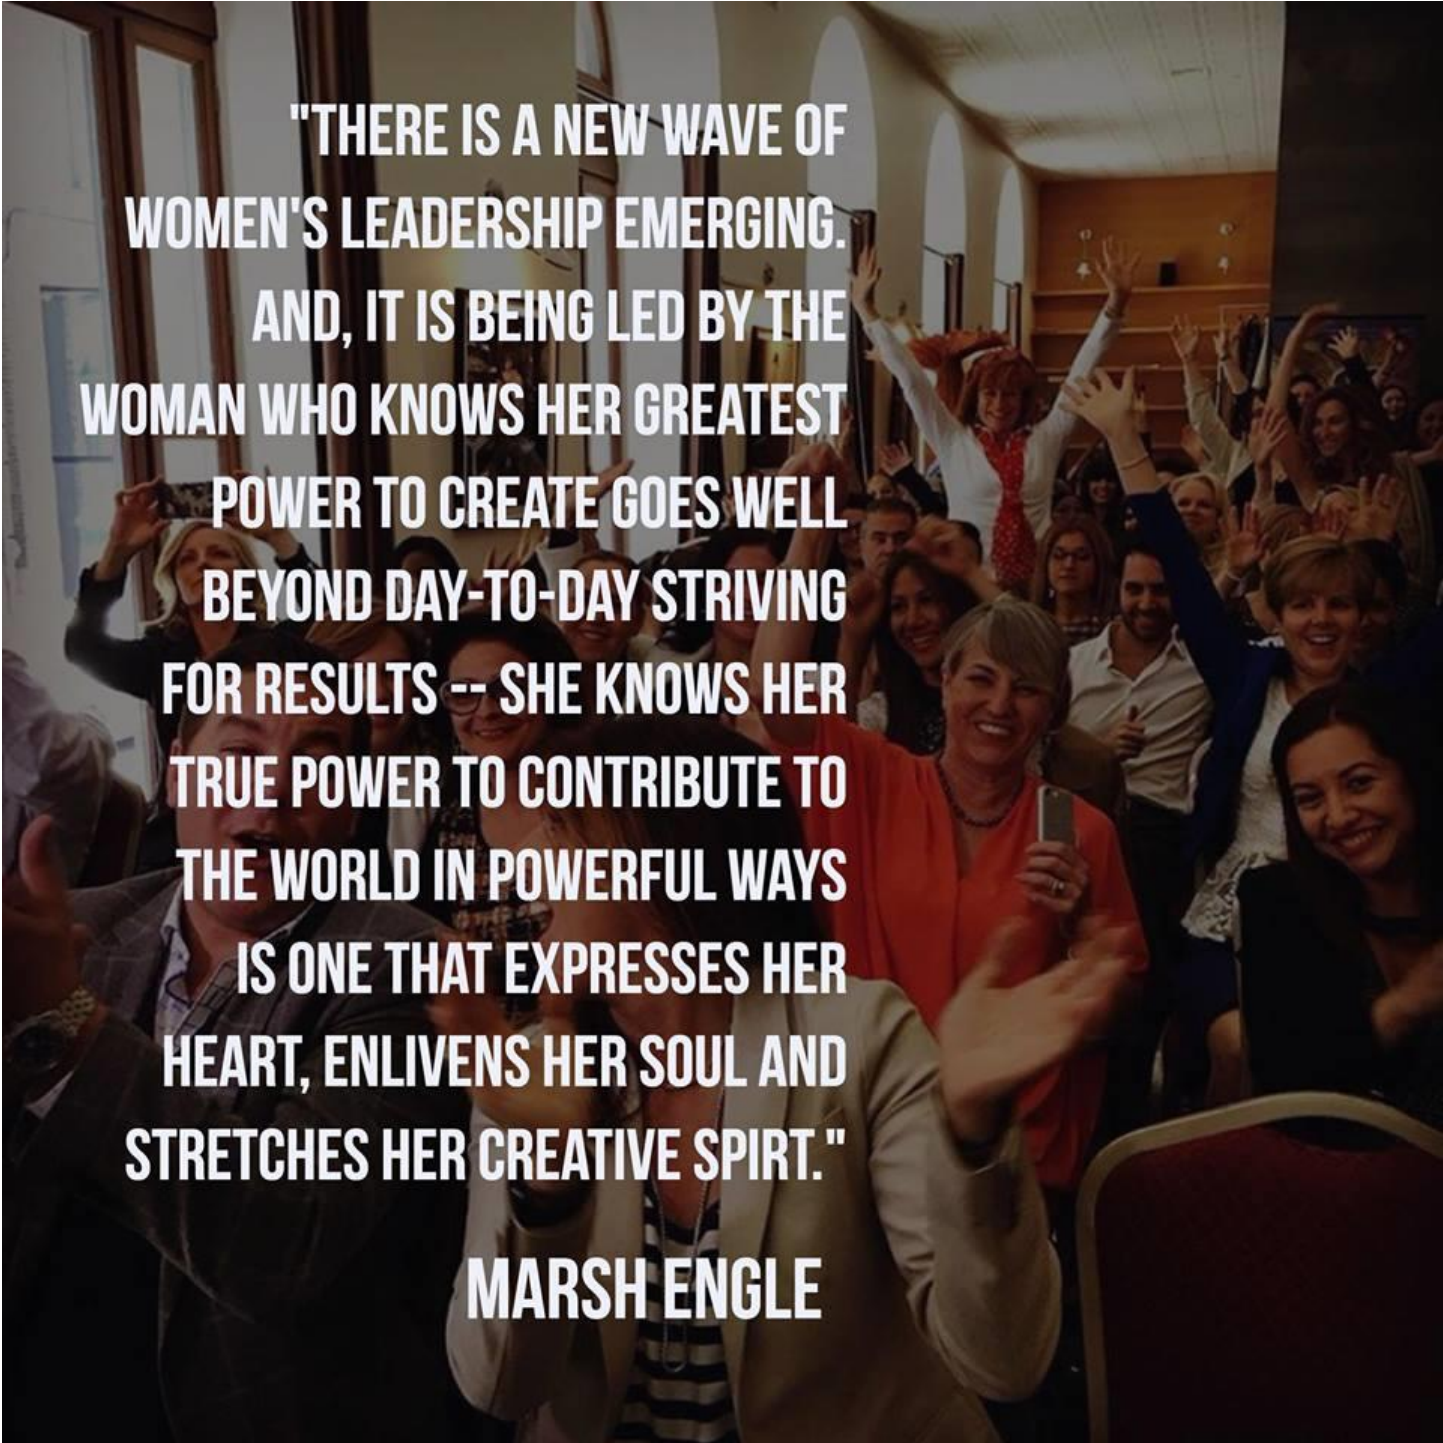

Throughout, I listened to thousands of women from all walks of life — from entrepreneurs and full-time mothers to students and C-suite execs to musicians, teachers and artists — share their definitions and attitudes around authenticity, creativity, self-value, worthiness – life and the way they choose to lead. As I spoke with the women, I found myself asking, 'What do these women with inspired motivations, leaders cultivating creative ideas, entrepreneurs pioneering new ways of doing business all have in common?'

The answer was clear: Each woman was committed to define her life on purpose and unapologetically.

Here's what I know: When women do not have a clear connection with their purpose, the result can be utter chaos: a constant state of ups and downs; confusion; exhaustion from overwork; loneliness and isolation; dissatisfaction or even more, depression – in short, a diminishing sense of value and worth takes place.

But, when a woman has a clear lens through which to see her value and worth and she knows what she wishes to create, she is enlivened with a vibrant creativity. She becomes both grounded and liberated. On a personal quest to learn how to live a life of meaning and spiritual connection, she never needs to look too far to find her potentials. Generous with her heart, she makes plenty of room to choose what matters and refuses what does not. Consistently building personal excellence, she thrives in her ability to improve her own life and the lives of others.

"THERE IS A NEW WAVE OF WOMEN'S LEADERSHIP EMERGING.
AND, IT IS BEING LED BY THE WOMAN WHO KNOWS HER GREATEST
POWER TO CREATE GOES WELL
BEYOND DAY-TO-DAY STRIVING FOR RESULTS -- SHE KNOWS HER TRUE POWER TO CONTRIBUTE TO
THE WORLD IN POWERFUL WAYS
IS ONE THAT EXPRESSES HER HEART, ENLIVENS HER SOUL AND STRETCHES HER CREATIVE SPIRIT."

Marsh Engle Personal Quotes:

*“Let’s be the women who put our love into action. Let’s be the ones who build the world we want to live in. Let’s be the ones who know, without a hint of doubt, it can be done.”
Marsh Engle*

“Intention is a powerful thing. When we speak, we create. When we pay attention, we create. When we love, we create. Let’s agree to be conscious and productive and empowered with our investments of intention.” Marsh Engle

“As the new face of feminine leadership, we have a responsibility to our next generation of amazing women — a responsibility that calls us forth to live our most inspired, purpose-driven, self-empowered life.” Marsh Engle

*“Authenticity is when you hear a calling from your soul — and you respond.”
Marsh Engle*

“Within every amazing woman is the power to love, imagine, create and transform. She is the full circle of pure potentials. When she sets free this potential, she holds the power to change the world.” Marsh Engle

“Treat your work as sacred, because it is.” Marsh Engle

“In this moment someone is noticing how you are making a difference in their life. Do not give up on your great work. Your message and your mission matters.” Marsh Engle

“Today one step will matter. One step past the ordinary. One step past the safety zone of procrastination. One step beyond the edge of doubt. One step out of the realm of 'not-enough'. Today one step will matter. And, it's that one small step that will make the biggest difference today, tomorrow, always. Take it!” Marsh Engle

*“It will take keen focus. It will require commitment. You will be urged to grow past your wildest imaginings. And moved to trust choices that aren’t easy or logical or popular. Because to be true to the heart of your creative calling is to reveal the soul of your purpose. And, that is the BIGGEST, BOLDEST, MOST elegant honor of your lifetime.”

NEW BOOK TO RELEASE Fall 2018: DEAR AMAZING DAUGHTER

About DEAR AMAZING DAUGHTER:

We must get ourselves talking from the fierceness of our genuine power.

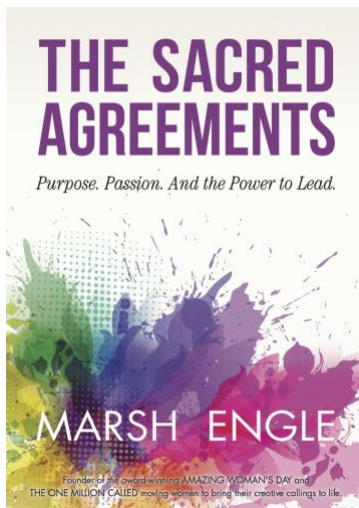

We must unleash the feminine esteem held within the most pivotal moments of our lives.

We must commit to discover the truth of who we are and do whatever it takes to unapologetically live that truth.

It takes great courage to talk about things that have much time been taboo or too vulnerable; but, it's by speaking about these very things we create a platform to heal relationships between mothers and daughters, within ourselves and with other women. Within the pages of Dear Amazing Daughter you will engage in the dynamic shifts that take place only when a woman enters into a deepening dialogue about the most pivotal moments of her life. You'll find ways to mindfully create a new conversation with yourself and with others – slowly transforming beliefs that tend to keep us spiraling in stories that can so easily manifest as sabotage, self-denial – even depression and isolation. As we begin to celebrate the power thread throughout our stories we can and will set ourselves free from ...

- Relentless comparison of ourselves to others.
- Self-sabotaging through doubt of our innate strength and worth.
- Diminishing our power and intelligence in order to be accepted.
- Denying our full self for fear of being threatening to others.
- Giving up on our self-respect and wellbeing in order to place another's needs above our own.
- Feeding the drive of unhealthy competition with other women.
- Undervaluing the brilliance of our individual creative power, capacities and abilities.
- Acquiescing to toxic definitions and outdated beliefs that keep us leaning into a 'small' idea of our true capabilities, underestimating our abilities to make a significant contribution to our communities and to the world.

The fact is, when we approach the telling of our stories from the transformational power they hold – whether it's a rich inner-dialogue we enter into with ourselves or one we have with others – we liberate higher states of understanding and access untapped strength. We begin to connect with ourselves and with each other in a new way. And, what's more, we can and will elevate and redefine a more dynamic destiny. We will begin to see more clearly. We will awaken a NEW conversation about becoming the amazing women we are truly meant to be.
